

“We, the members of the healthcare community and the government of New York, commit to supporting and advancing the decarbonization and resiliency of the healthcare sector across New York State. We will work in concert and in good faith to remove barriers or misalignment within regulations that govern the engineering, design, construction, and operation of healthcare facilities; to provide funding and technical resources to support decarbonization and resiliency at scale across the healthcare sector; to build, own, operate, and maintain our facilities in the most carbon efficient manner possible, and to provide world class patient care for all that may need it in the State of New York. It is our intent to establish New York State as the national decarbonization and resiliency leader and through this New York Healthcare Protocol and the commitment enshrined herein to guide the Healthcare sector to a more sustainable future.”
